

Around 10 December 1954, no changes were observed on the stored rinway mats at Schoenhauser Damm airfield. The installation was surrounded by a barbed wire fence. No aircraft had landed at the field. Aircraft allegedly from Brandenburg were employed for firing practices by KVP at towed sleeve targets over the Klietz training field.

Comment. There were no observations indicating any changes at Schoenhauser Damm airfield. As no time data is available on the firing practices at towed sleeve targets, it is believed that the practices were held by the AA regiment in Potsdam or the AA officer candidate school in Oranienburg during the summer training of 1954
